Case Study: 13-County Poverty Alleviation Plan

ENVIVE Solutions supported the planning phase of a 13-county, multi-agency initiative seeking a multi-year, multi-million dollar state grant.

Led by the Upper Cumberland Regional Human Resources Department (Tennessee), the initiative will provide resources to “lift children and families of the Upper Cumberland out of generational poverty”.

ENVIVE Solutions advised on the role of behavioral health during the initiative’s planning phase, ensuring that the five-year plan will consider the behavioral health needs of people experiencing poverty across a 13-county area in Tennessee.

ENVIVE also provided consulting and structural support for the team. We managed the geographically dispersed team to ensure seamless communication, and we employed project management to coordinate stakeholders, prioritize activities, track risks and decisions, and monitor the progress of critical milestones.

The project assembled experts from the state university; Circles USA, a national nonprofit focused on poverty alleviation; the regional labor board, healthcare delivery systems, and community members who had a common vision of “prosperity for all”. The planning phase took three months. The project resulted in the successful acquisition of $25 million in Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) Opportunity Act funds.

This project was one of seven pilot programs (out of 80 applicants) to receive a share of $175 million in combined funding allocated to address the needs of families located in urban and rural areas across the State of Tennessee.

We design, lead, and implement complex initiatives.

Case Study: Statewide Overdose Fatality Review Pilot

ENVIVE Solutions designed and facilitated a multi-agency, Statewide Overdose Fatality Review (OFR) Reentry Pilot. The pilot aimed to uncover system gaps contributing to the substantial number of overdose deaths among adults who, post-prison release, experienced a fatal overdose within three years of their release.

ENVIVE coordinated the participation of more than 32 organizations and individuals, representing public health, public safety, healthcare providers, the department of corrections, law enforcement, social justice advocates, community members, and people with lived addiction experience.

The OFR resulted in policy recommendations for state legislators on the opioid epidemic affecting post-prison release adults and identified opportunities for preventing future overdose deaths.

Key Policy Recommendations:

- Improve interagency collaboration and communication.
- Create Overdose Fatality Review Legislation to improve access to data sharing.
- Increase educational resources to soon-to-be-released incarcerated adults.

Project Sponsors: New Mexico Behavioral Health Collaborative, New Mexico Behavioral Health Services Division, and the New Mexico Department of Health.
